

Prof. Dr. S. Geethalakshmi

Dr. S. Geethalakshmi completed her MBBS from Stanley medical college, MD from Madras Medical college and PhD from the Tamil nadu Dr. MGR Medical University. She is currently serving as the Vice Chancellor of Dr. M.G. R. Educational and Research Institute, Maduravoyal, Chennai and was the former Vice Chancellor of Dr. MGR Medical University. She was also the Director of Medical Education in Tamil nadu from 2014 to 2015. She has excelled as chairperson of the selection committee of faculty at JIPMER, AIIMS Nagpur and also the Tamilnadu Public Service Commission. She is the head of faculty trainee of Indian program of UNESCO bioethics, Chairman of screening committee of Anna university and also the chairman of organ Transplantation authorisation committee. Dr.S.Geethalakshmi has several research papers published in National and International Journals and has contributed chapters, guidelines of NACO for CD4 counts and various chapters on the books issued by the ICMR. She was the key person in delivering healthcare and controlling disease epidemics during unprecedented floods in Chennai in 2015. Her impeccable work has been recognised with various awards, including Lifetime Achievement award by Indian Association of Medical Microbiology, Best teacher award by the Tamilnadu medical council, Award of effective management of rescue operations by the chief minister of Tamil nadu, the prestigious Dr.B.C.Roy National Award and many more.